PRESS RELEASE

August 13, 2020

GLENWOOD SPRINGS ISSUES INCREASED WATER USE RESTRICTIONS

Glenwood Springs, Colo.- The City of Glenwood Springs Water Department is extending the “NO LAWN WATERING” restriction through Friday the 14th of August and implementing a odd-even day watering protocol.

Beginning Saturday August 15, 2020 at 6:00 am, households are able to water their lawns on alternating days. This will extend through Saturday August 29. Odd numbered home addresses can water on odd days of the month. Even numbered home addresses can water on even days of the month. Most irrigation controls have this as a built-in setting option.

The City is requesting that residents do not water lawns for a longer duration of time than normal. Watering should only occur before 10:00am or after 6:00 pm.

Excess water usage can drop the water storage levels in a water tank which means less water at that moment for firefighting use. Please keep water consumption to a minimum in your household or business. Items to consider are shorter showers, less or no bathtub filling, no filling of pools, dish washers set on the water saving mode, less frequent washing machine loads, minimum car washing, etc.

These restrictions will be reviewed daily and if any changes can be made information will be put out to the public with those updates.
